A CORRESPONDENT ASKS A FEW QUESTIONS.

Light Upon the Steele-Harrah-Wilson Scrap Now Exciting the "Gazette."

To the Editor of the Democrat:

Will you be kind enough to explain for my information why the Gazette is making such a rumpus over the fact that Billy Steele had a "scrap" on the street with one Wilson?

This is why I ask: I know that these "scraps" have not been as infrequent as could be desired, and yet the papers have as a rule said nothing about them. Will you tell me why this is?

You may, Mr. Editor, throw this paper in the waste basket, but I do think the public ought to be made acquainted with certain facts, and I shall recite them to you whether you repeat them to the public or no.

I happen to know something about this Wilson-Steele matter, and here is what I know, together with some things I have heard on pretty good evidence:

Wilson, who I believe is reading law with G. W. Barnett and Louis Hoffman, has been in the habit of saying some very harsh things of Mr. Steele. The other day Mr. Steele met Wilson on the street and said:

"I have been told that you have said that I was a 'hot-headed rebel' (vile epithet), and that it would be a disgrace to elect me prosecuting attorney of Pettis county. Such fellows have had their day. I want to know if you made any such remark."

Wilson replied: "What are you going to do about it if I did say so?"

"Your friends wouldn't know you had ever been here," Steele said angrily. "Did you say it?"

Wilson would not say, and Steele then said:

"If you did make such a remark I denounce you as a [vile epithet], and I want every one of your damned radical friends to know I told you so," or words something to that effect.

Wilson, who evidently wanted to respect himself, struck at Steele, and, the Gazette said, hit him on the neck. Struck at him again, and the Gazette said, missed him. A bystander says Wilson patted Billy Harrah in his excitement while trying to hit Steele, and Harrah batted Wilson in the eye without seeking explanations, and this has the appearance of plausibility. Several bystanders grabbed Steele and he did not touch Wilson.

Now, for the sequel. Ellis Smith, who was present, swore out a warrant, proper enough in itself, and told Steele that he had been compelled to do so. Steele asked him who had demanded such action. Smith said, "oh, that's all right. It's my duty," and Steele was taken before the justice's court and his case set for hearing.

Then the Gazette gets its cue from—well, anybody can guess,—and at once set in to make political capital out of it. That is the policy of the men who are secretly behind the management directing affairs.

In line with its policy it explains that its reports, gathered by its own reporters, were incorrect, and that Harrah and Steele had gone out together looking for a row. This latter is untrue, for Harrah and Steele had not been together, and Steele says he did not know Harrah was in the crowd.

Here are some more questions: Why did Smith swear out the warrant? It was his duty, but he has not always been in strict line with his duty.

Smith knew Wilson struck Steele, and knew Steele had not struck Wilson. Why did he not arrest Wilson?

Why was Steele charged with assault and battery when he did not touch Wilson?

Now, another thing, and then some more questions. It has been but a few months since Ellis Smith, sheriff of Pettis county, probably under the influence of liquor—for he does get that way—had a row with a man in front of Hoffman's hardware store, another row with a man in Benke's saloon, and got knocked out in a row in the Third street billiard hall, all in one day. Later he had a row with W. D. Wallace and got knocked out by that gentleman. Mr. Smith was not only sheriff, but was at the time a candidate for collector. Now, the questions:

Why did not the papers publish these things? Why did not the officers, who were cognizant of these facts, swear out warrants for Mr. Smith's arrest?

Why do you not, Mr. Editor, use these facts against Mr. Smith, who is a candidate for public office, and who, because of his habits of drinking and quarreling when under the influence of liquor, is a constant menace to the good name of the people of this county, for no people can relish the unsavory odor that attaches to a "scrapping" officer?

Please answer these questions, and if interested parties want my name sent them to me and I will tell them who wants to know and who is authority for the statements—all of them—herein contained.

Respectfully,
FAIR PLAY.

[The Democrat to-morrow will have something to say relative to the foregoing.—ED. DEMOCRAT.]

THE CLARK-NORTON FIGHT.

A New Primary Called and Ballot a Candidate.

Special to the Democrat

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 2.—Both Clark and Norton, the rival candidates for congress in the Ninth district, have signed an agreement to abide the action of the state democratic committee in the matter.

The committee will probably order new primaries in all of the counties in the district and a new congressional convention, and Farmer Dick Dalton will then become a candidate.

Sing, Dance or Whistle.

The Elks will to-night give a "stag social" at their handsomely fitted quarters in the Cassidy building. The announcement says that it will be "an old fashioned stag social," which means, after being properly translated, more fun in a minute than a Quaker ever saw in a thousand years.

There is a sneaking suspicion attached to one request, however, which has been evolved by Chairman Latour. It reads: N. B. Each member of the arrangement committee is required to bring a small paper sack, commonly called a "toot."

Hurt In a Runaway.

Nelson Painter, of Dresden, met with a severe accident one day during the latter part of last week in which he sustained a fracture of both bones of his right leg. He was raking hay on a one horse rake when the horse suddenly stumbled into a bumble bee's nest. He did not loiter around the spot a great length of time; in fact he made about the best time getting away that was ever recorded of a country horse and it was not on a kite track either. In the general smash-up Mr. Painter received the injury spoken of above.

A Strange Disease.

Dr. Jos. Patt, the veterinary surgeon, was called this morning to attend a horse brought in by a farmer, which was suffering with a peculiar and repulsive disease. The surgeon pronounced it blood tumors. On the flank of the horse were large masses of raw tissue which are constantly increasing in size. It seemed to be superficial in its growth, involving the skin rather than the real muscular tissue. The horse's feet had been allowed to grow until they resembled the long, thin shoes usually worn by knock-about comedians.

Dr. Patt will perform an operation to remove the strange growth.

In Rapid Succession.

A little 3-year-old child of W. B. Martin, the blacksmith, was kicked in the face by a horse yesterday afternoon while playing in the yard at home. The horse belonged to Lee Hazlewood and was grazing in the yard. The injury is painful though not serious.

Strange to say, during the same hour, between 6 and 7 o'clock, Mr. Martin's little 6-year-old daughter fell from a peach tree into which she had climbed, and sustained a bad sprain of the right arm at the elbow.

Back From Hickory.

Hon. Chas. E. Yeater returned Monday from Hickory county, where he had been for several days campaigning in the interest of democracy and good government. He spoke at Cross Timbers, Hermitage and Wheatland to good crowds and found the democracy in good condition for the struggle. He was well pleased with the trip and returns with a high opinion of the stalwart democrats of old Hickory.

COUNCIL MEETING.

LIMESTONE BLOCKS ON EAST THIRD STREET.

The East Sedalia Engine House to be Thoroughly Repaired—After Unpaid Licenses.

The council met in regular session last night in the council chambers with Bosserman, president pro tem, presiding. Councilmen present—Bosserman, Dean, McKenzie, Honkomp, Dugan, Deckman. Absent—Hutchinson and Wigton.

Tabulated memorandum books by which the police will be enabled to keep a record of complaints of failures to keep electric lights burning on the streets were ordered distributed.

Mayor Stevens then arrived and took his seat.

A petition was read from the property owners asking that Third street be paved from Lamine to Engineer with limestone blocks, the same as used by Patrick McEnroe and E. Doble on Engineer between Third and Fourth. On motion of McKenzie and second by Wigton the prayers of the petitioners were granted and a resolution to this effect ordered printed. This effectually does away with the asphalt paving on East Third as originally provided for in a previous resolution.

Bosserman was ordered to notify property owners on Nineteenth between Lamine and Washington, that the street commissioner would ties shall be arrested under the ordinance provided for this purpose. The council adjourned after allowing the numerous bills and ordering a number of warrants drawn.

ALONG SENTENCE.

A Howard County County Negro Goes to the Penitentiary For Twenty Years.

Sheriff Geo. Crigler, of Fayette, Howard county, was a passenger to Jefferson City to-day. He had in custody two notorious criminals, whom he was conveying to the penitentiary: One of the convicts, Albert Nash, goes up 20 years for murdering a white man, Bud Proctor, last winter at Fayette. The other gets two years for burglary. Both of the prisoners were negroes.

Much Improved.

W. H. Martin is back from a visit to his brother, F. B. Martin, near Otterville, who was recently so badly injured by being crushed against a threshing machine. He is said to be progressing far better than could be expected and it is a matter of but a short time when he will be able to attend to his accustomed duties. His companion, Sparks, is already out of bed.

Hackmen Fight.

Steve Cliff and Ed Stoner, two hackmen, had a rather spirited mill at the depot shortly after three o'clock last evening. They were separated before any damage of consequence was done, however, and given over to the police.

The affair created considerable excitement for a time as is the case in all pugilistic encounters.

POLICE COURT.

GEORGE GRIFFIN OCCUPIES THE POLICE COURT STAGE.

An Italian Gymnast Tumbles in—A Suspect Has a Gun and Two Gold Watches.

The court room this morning had a rather unusual and varied lot of defendants.

Judge Rauck wiped his eye glasses to get a better look at an amusing individual named George Griffin, who was slated for vagrancy.

George proved himself a great actor in low comedy. He was dressed in an antiquated prince Albert coat, twisted a frazzled "supy" hat in his hand and was continually adjusting a soiled cravat over a shirt that hadn't seen water since the flood went down.

"George, stand up," said the judge.

"O, now, I can't," he howled as his face twisted into a hundred shapes. "My leg is killing me."

Marshal DeLong then arose and said that on two occasions yesterday George had beaten him so badly in a foot race that he was ashamed to tell it.

George got rattled, spit on his fingers and endeavored to smooth the wrinkles in his ancient hat.

"How old are you, George?" said the judge.

George hung his head and, in a very effeminate and affected way, said: "My mother said I was 19; O pshaw," and again he rubbed his hat. He was forty, if a day.

"What do you do for a living?"

"Well, I can saw wood, [rubs the hat,] split sticks and carry water for mother when she washes."

"What do you do when your mother is not washing?"

"Well, I'm not very strong, and I just rest and lay in the shade."

He now spit on both hands and made a dive for his hat, while the crowd laughed and the judge sternly rapped order.

George was then asked how he would like to work for the city. This threw him into hysterics, and he began to unwrap an endless bandage from his leg.

"Would you go home if the court would turn you loose; and how long would you stay?"

"Yes, sir, I would stay in the house all my life; never go outside as long as I live, except to pick up chips and carry water for mother."

George was paralyzed, however, when a $10 fine knocked the wind out of his sails.

G. E. Stoner and S. D. Cliff were fined $6 each for disturbing the peace.

Thos. Willets alias Byron, an Italian gymnast and tumbler, was arraigned for giving an exhibition without a license. He was fined $5.

A man named Harry Kelly was up for carrying concealed weapons and keeping late hours. The officers made quite a find when Kelly was searched. There were two ladies' gold watches, a woman's kid gloves, ribbons, and a lot of business papers indicating that Kelly lived in Kansas City, Kans., and that his wife was named Alice Kelly. One rather old style, thin case gold watch had the following on an inner case: "No. 38620. Louis Jacot. Locle." The other watch was a much heavier and finer one. It had a double chain to which was attached a small ring with two small pearls and two turquoise for a setting. It was an Elgin watch No. 463878. He left $6 with the city.

The Hollenbeck case in which they were charged with disturbing the peace of two young ladies while the latter were passing Barley's foundry on Main street was dismissed at cost of the complainants.

County Court.

The work of making pauper allowance was finished by the court at the afternoon session yesterday. The usual amount of fees was allowed. The morning session to-day was occupied by letting bids for building bridges. The contract for building light iron bridges was awarded to the Geo. E. King Bridge Company, of Des Moines, Ia. The bridges are to be from 35 to 65 feet in length and to be placed as follows: Lake Creek: section 21, township 44 range 20. Little Muddy: section 16, township 46, range 22. Shaver, section 35, township 46, range 20. South Fork: section 33, township 47, range 23. Heath: section 8, township 47, range 22. Basin Ford: section 12, township 44 range 23. Heath: section 30, township 48, range 20. The contract amounts to $6,300.

More Truth Than Fiction.

Notwithstanding the many denials of coming changes in the official roster of the M. K. & T., the fact nevertheless impresses itself that there is trouble, and big trouble at that in the camp. It has been officially said when the new management first took charge of the affairs of the road, that it was the intention of those on the throne to revolutionize the system. Eastern road ideas are being incorporated, and eastern men are being placed in position to enforce them. It seems to be the opinion of those who have the power to change things, that different departments of the road can be consolidated and the system operated with greater ease and much less expense. It is in times like these that one sees the worry and anxiety of those who occupy positions of prominence in railroad companies. The fact that a good man can always get a good position is very thin butter on a very thin slice of bread. It is very discouraging to a man who for years has exhausted his best energies in building up a road to find at the last hour that he is no longer needed. "Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown."

Whatever will be done, it is hoped that the great M. K. & T. will ever push forward to that high success of which she is capable.

UNFORTUNATE NAME.

That's What Col. Van B. Wisker Said of the Prohibition Party in His Speech Last Night.

Col. Van B. Wisker, editor, preacher and orator, made a prohibition speech at the court house last night which, had its merits been known beforehand, would have called forth more numerous contingent than that which greeted the speaker when he was introduced. Col. Wisker, from a prohibition standpoint, made a speech not heard every day, by any means.

The gist of his speech was that prohibition principles, as set forth in the party platform, approximated more nearly the original ideas of democracy as promulgated by our forefathers, than either of the two great parties. The democratic party, he claimed, had been perverted until it now bore but little resemblance to its former self. He maintained that it was province of prohibition to create a new democratic party and readjust the political perversions that designing demagogues had wrought. Col. Wisker objected to the name of prohibition as unfortunate and expressed the eager hope that the name would be changed to a more appropriate one in the not distant future.

The EVENING DEMOCRAT.

"I would earnestly advise them for their good to order this paper to be punctually served up and to be looked upon as a part of the tea equipage."—ADDISON.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Patrons of the EVENING DEMOCRAT will confer a favor upon the management by promptly reporting any irregularity in delivery or bad condition of paper from improper handling.

If the state committee don't settle the Clark-Norton contest in the Ninth congressional district, the true, level-headed democrats of the district should settle it by nominating a candidate for congress. So far there has been no nomination made by the party.

With one foot in the Cleveland column going east and the other in the Warner procession going west, the always interesting and sometimes able Kansas City Star is in danger of being so badly strained and stretched as to render its effort to keep up with either procession both painful and futile.

The Gazette says Warner will carry Sedalia. It should be remembered, however, that the same authority last spring was equally positive that Bailey would carry Sedalia—in fact that the whole democratic ticket would be defeated. The Gazette's reputation as a political prophet is not the best.

Certain alleged democrats are trying hard to make the friends of the defeated candidates for governor feel sore. It is useless, however, for the democracy is a unit against force bills, high taxes and and proscription. The memory of radical rule in Missouri is a barrier that Billy Warner cannot climb.

The Gazette is shocked because a candidate on the democratic ticket was a party to a "scrap" on the street. It should be equally shocked at this candidate for governor or who figured in a similar "scrap" on the streets of Kansas City a few months ago. In fact, this thing of "scrapping" is more a matter of temper than of politics; but if it is wrong in a candidate for a county office it is equally wrong in a man who aspires to be governor. But from the way the Gazette supports Warner one would never suppose that it considers "scrapping" either a high crime or a misdemeanor.

A DISPATCH from Nevada, the home of Hon. W. J. Stone, states that that gentleman has received from some admiring constituent a featherless fowl yclept "Bill Warner," according to the express tag on the coop. It is a picturesque rooster, six months old, and has never had half a dozen feathers on its carcass. It is supposed to be somewhat symbolical of the republican rooster's condition after the November election, or more likely of William Warner himself, after "standing up for Missouri" a few moments against Bill Stone in the coming campaign.

FORCE BILL AND THE CITIES.

While the force bill would give a radical administration power to turn several of the southern states over to the negroes, says the Republican, it is far from being aimed only at the south. It applies, of course, to the whole country, and it would enable the party controlling the chief supervisors and federal "canvassing boards" to control the whole country. No congressional district would be exempt from its operations. Under it the polls in every precinct in the union would be taken in charge by any federal administration determined to perpetuate itself in power. But while all this is provided for, special pains are taken to provide for the control of the great cities. The bill is specially aimed at half a dozen southern cities and half a dozen northern and western cities. Under it the radical administration at Washington would take control of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis and St. Paul, Detroit, and other large cities in the north and west, whenever necessary to do so in order to control the states in which these cities are located.

The bill, it must be remembered, is not necessarily uniform upon its application. The federal administration takes control of the election on the petition of "100 persons claiming to be citizens of the United States" in city districts, and "50 persons claiming to be citizens of the United States" in country districts. It is not expected that democrats will apply for federal interference with elections. As the republicans will not apply to a democratic administration, provision is made for the republican administration intending to control the election, to take charge of such districts and only of such as will certainly suffice to decide the result under proper manipulation. For this work city districts are kept in view, and the bill makes careful provision for meeting the requirements of metropolitan conditions.

The arbitrary power of the Chief Supervisors, holding for life, and of the Returning Boards whose returns decide the election, applies alike to all localities. Domiciliary visits by supervisors and special deputy marshals, the control of the registration lists and the provisions for swearing in an unlimited number of special deputy marshals are made general in their application by the bill, but the control of the cities is what they aim at. Under them both the registration and the voting in such cities as New York, Chicago and St. Louis would be under federal control, and not only would the elections be thus determined, but to "make assurance doubly sure" provision is made for the enrollment of thousands of Republican ward workers in the cities as deputy marshals and poll supervisors.

If this bill passes, as Harrison demands that it shall pass, the people of northern and western cities can say farewell to all hope of controlling their own elections.

THERE is no doubt that the Knights of Pythias will do their part in making the biennial encampment of their uniform rank and the meeting of their grand lodge such a success that the event will be memorable in the history of the order, and the celebrity of Kansas City will be pleasantly enhanced, says the Star. There will be an army of drilled and uniformed men—probably 15,000 of them—encamped within the borders of the city. There will be a glittering and impressive parade that will scarcely be able to pass within three hours' time. The session of the grand lodge will be of great and lasting importance, for many points of vital interest to the order are to be decided. All told, the number of strangers within the city gates will probably be not less than 100,000.

THE Monitor has word from Hon. Richard Dalton, late candidate for governor, that he will be in Moberly at an early date to thank his friends of Randolph county for sticking to him so nobly at the last convention. Mr. Dalton has made himself an enviable reputation, truthfully says the Monitor, by being the first candidate to grab the Stone banner at the convention, and amidst the confusion to make the nomination unanimous. His true friends fell in line and by that act, and his noble democratic spirit, may at an early date place him in a better position than if he had received the nomination for governor. Such is the wish of all true democrats and Dalton's friends.

THE Carnegie company's lockout will do much to open the eyes of the laboring men of America to the utter falsity of the assertion that protective tariffs are levied for the purpose of raising the price of labor. Labor is bought and sold like other things, under the laws of supply and demand. The manufacturers whose establishments are "protected" can fix the price of what they have to sell because they are by law exempted from competition, but American laborers cannot fix their own wages unless other laborers are prohibited from taking their job at the wages the employers offer.

THERE is no strike at Homestead, Pa., and has not been. It is well to remember that fact in the discussions of the trouble there, says the Chronicle. The works were shut down by Chairman Frick's order after his failure to come to an agreement with the Amalgamated Association, and work was resumed after the publication of an ultimatum to the workmen which amounted to: accept our scale of wages or quit. Those who were willing to accept the scale went to work, those who were not willing are still unemployed. The Carnegie company has been the aggressor throughout.

If it is a fact, as asserted, that the Carnegie company has one hundred and fifty non-union men locked in the works at Homestead against their wishes and refuses to allow them to go outside of the works, the affair should be inquired into. Even a rich "protected" company has no right to impress and imprison American laborers. The slave trade has been abolished and it is as much a crime to seize and imprison white laborers as black ones.

THE old saying, that people who live in glass houses should not throw stones, applies to political parties as well as to individuals. The attempt of the republican managers to use the infamous anti-Dalton circular to influence Catholic voters against the democracy, has called attention to the course of Warner in signing a report on the admission of New Mexico containing language insulting to the Catholic church.

Too much attention cannot be given to the sanitary condition of a city. One epidemic may cost the business men of a town more money than it would require to keep the streets and alleys clean for five years, to say nothing of that greater cost in human life and human suffering. Keep the streets, alleys and back yards clean.

In the work of organization of the party in the state that is soon to be begun by the state democratic committee there should be perfect accord and unity of action on the part of all democrats. The vote of two years ago shows what can be done in grand old Missouri when active, intelligent work is done.

SEDALIA will entertain hosts of visitors fair week and nothing should be left undone that would in any way serve to show the city in the best light. A city is like a business man in that a great deal of its prosperity is due to its reputation.

THE people's party managers assert that the republicans are colonizing Kansas with negroes for the purpose of carrying the state for Harrison and protection. This emphasizes the great revolution which has destroyed the eighty-two thousand and majority of four years ago.

THE DEMOCRAT desires to be as emphatic as possible in urging upon the democrats of Pettis county the duty of organizing and bringing out every vote possible. A thousand majority can be secured with proper and intelligent effort.

THE democratic state campaign will be opened amid great enthusiasm and closed amid even greater rejoicing by the victorious hosts who favor democracy and good government.

THE county democratic ticket is a good one from top to bottom. It will be, and deserves to be, elected without exception.

THE Sedalia democratic club meets at Hurley's Hall to-night. Let every member be in attendance.

Don't forget the democratic club meeting to-night.

The Irish Village at the Fair.

Concerning the Irish village at the world's fair, which is being arranged under the management of the Countess of Aberdeen and Mrs. Ernest Hart, the latter says: "We shall have seven cottages in which peasant girls and lads from Donegal and elsewhere will be seen at work, weaving, spinning, dyeing, sprigging, carving, etc. The girls will look very pretty in Connemara red petticoats, fishwife skirts and blouses and scarlet cloaks. In the first cottage will be a precise model of a cottage in Donegal, with undressed walls of granite, with a hooded fireplace and dresser full of bright crockery; a girl will be seen dyeing and spinning our famous Hand-and-Hearth homespun, the wool of which she gets from the lichen and heather of her native bog outside. There will be an imitation peat fire and on this the dyer will from time to time place her iron potato-pot and proceed to dye the wool. In the second cottage there will be linen weavings and embroideries of the famous Kells Art Embroidery; whist linen damask weaving on a Jacquard hand loom and fringe-knotting will go on in the third cottage. Between this and the next cottage there will be a model dairy, in which dairy-maids will be at work churning and butter-making. In the fourth cottage every description of Irish lace will be shown. The Limerick lace worker at her frame, the Trochon lace worker at the pillow, the numerous varieties of point lace, etc. Sprigging and veining, which are employed in the production of the beautiful hemstitched handkerchiefs of Belfast, will be shown in the next cottage. The girls of Down are especially noted for their exquisite work. Other features of our Irish industrial village will be a replica of Donegal castle, an old well, and other interesting Celtic memorials."

The Linear Length of Dances.

From the Philadelphia Press.
An average waltz takes one over about three-quarters of a mile, a square dance makes you cover a mile, and a gallop equals a good mile, at a run, too. Cannot you for your self how much the girl with a well filled programme traverses in an evening. Twenty dances is the average, you know. Of these about twelve are waltzes. There, at once, is nine miles. Three, gallops, and she has done twelve miles. Five other dances at half mile apiece, which is hardly a fairly big estimate, brings her to close upon fifteen miles, to say nothing of the intermission stroll in the garden and the trips to the dressing room to renovate one's gown and complexion.

Not Anarchists.

From the Boston Advertiser.
From the beginning of the Homestead troubles anarchist sentiments have been sternly frowned upon by the strikers. Our readers will remember that some days ago emissaries of an anarchist society came to Homestead at the height of the excitement and began distributing their incendiary documents. As soon as this was discovered an indignant outcry against it arose, and the workmen put a stop to the proceeding, tore down the circulars that had been posted up, and drove the scoundrels out of town with a warning that it would not be safe for them to return.

While at our other store at Big Island, Va., last April, I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhea. I never had it worse in my life. I tried several old-time remedies, such as Blackberry Wine, Paragoric and Laudanum, without getting any relief. A RUSSIAN GOVERNOR KILLED.

Five Thousand Attack Russian Troops—Sanguinary Fighting—Much Execution Done With Daggers—Riot Finally Quelled.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 2.—Letters received here from Ashland, a town of Asiatic Russia in Syria, report that the news in regard to the serious riots which occurred in that place on July 6 in connection with the cholera epidemic has been suppressed by the government, the strictest censorship being exercised in the matter.

From these letters it is learned that the native Sarts, believing that the doctors were poisoning patients who were suffering from cholera, became greatly excited and determined to put an end to the murderous practices which they imagined were being employed in the cases of the unfortunate stricken with the terrible disease. The wildest rumors were current of the cruelties inflicted by the medical men in causing the immediate death of the patients and these stories had the effect of arousing the fury of the people to the highest pitch.

Five thousand of the Sarts suddenly invaded the Russian quarter of the town and attacked and wrecked the residence of Deputy Governor Poutinstoff, who fled on the approach of the howling mob. His flight was discovered, however, and he was pursued and assailed by a shower of stones until his features had been mutilated beyond recognition.

The authorities, having become aware of the state of affairs in the town, took immediate steps to suppress the disorders and protect the other endangered officials. A body of troops was hurried to the scene. The two forces closed in on each other and a furious hand to hand conflict resulted, the maddened Sarts, when their pistols had been emptied, slashing furiously about with their daggers and doing much execution with them.

The drilled and better armed soldiers were unable to overcome their fanatical opponents, and additional troops had to be sent to their assistance. They were reinforced by a body of Cossacks, and with the valuable aid of these soldiers they finally succeeded in quelling the riots and dispersing the Sarts in all directions.

The Sarts were not disheartened by this repulse, and soon took steps to resume their attack. They collected around the mosques, and taking possession of these edifices at once set about the work of converting them into temporary forts, and defied the authorities to do battle with them. A large number of soldiers were dispatched to the scene of the new manifestations on the part of the rioters, and finally dislodged them from their stronghold.

The character of the struggle may be imagined when it is known that sixty of the Sarts were killed and that hundreds of them were wounded, many of them most grievously. The soldiers, too suffered heavily, the Russian losses being fifteen killed and many wounded.

He held a "soldiers' reception" last night and made an address to the veterans, eschewing politics. To-day he speaks at the Chautauque grounds. Ten thousand strangers are in the city hear him.

ABDUCTED COMMISSIONER.

Considerable Excitement Caused at Anthony, Kan.

ANTHONY, Kan., Aug. 2.—Considerable excitement has been occasioned in this county over the abduction of Amos Farmer, the alliance member of the board of county commissioners, and the attempted abduction of Alexander Terrell, a republican member of the board. Four or five masked men called Mr. Farmer out of bed, just before dawn this morning, took him into a carriage and that is the last seen of him.

Commissioner Terrell's would-be abductors, five in number, called at his home in the west part of the county about 11 o'clock last night and made a forcible entrance. Luckily Terrell was in Harper and only his wife and two small children were at home.

The cause is probably due to the fact that the board of commissioners was to have met to make a levy for the payment of the judgment upon the old Harper county bonds, required by the mandamus issued by the supreme court a few weeks ago.

The two remaining members of the board met and adjourned and will await results. Detectives are at work in the matter and some startling developments are expected in a few days.

Twenty years ago the county voted bonds to the extent of $110,000, to a railroad which was to be built through the county. A few miles of the road were built and the company got possession of the bonds and then left the county. Soon afterwards the tracks were torn up and all trace of the road was gone. These bonds passed into the hands of the usual innocent purchasers and suit was brought to compel their payment. It was bitterly contested and fought through the courts, but the decision was against the county and the ruling of the supreme court left the commissioners no recourse except to make the levy or resign.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

The Matter of the World's Fair to Be Postponed Until December.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—A democratic caucus was held in the house last night to endeavor to effect an agreement by which the present deadlock on the world's fair appropriation clause in the sundry civil bill could be broken and a speedy adjournment be brought about. A resolution was offered by Mr. Mutchler, of Pennsylvania, which in effect was that there should be a vote on a separate world's fair bill making an appropriation of $5,000,000 in aid of the world's fair, on the first Wednesday in December next after a six hours' debate and that only three amendments thereto shall be in order. The resolution further provides that the house should insist on the disagreement to the senate amendment to the sundry civil bill, and also that the Dockery sub-committee of the committee on appropriations should continue during the recess with power to visit Chicago and investigate the financial condition of the fair and report at the opening of the next session of congress as to the necessity for government aid. A vote upon the Mutchler resolution resulted in its favor by a vote of 69 to 31.

BACKBONE BROKEN.

The Announcement Concerning the Homestead Strike.

POTTER SORRY FOR THE OLD HANDS.

The Advisory Board Denies That Any Large Number of Men Are in the Mill—But Two Defections—The Iams Case.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Aug. 2.—Homestead's striking steel workers are considerably agitated. They have satisfied themselves of the correctness of Superintendent Potter's statement that a number of former employees had returned to work. This evidence of weakening on the part of the men who have loudly proclaimed their loyalty to the Amalgamated association worries the members of that organization, and to-day the streets are filled with strikers discussing the situation with much animation. Provost Marshal Meckling, fearing the break in the ranks of the strikers would lead to trouble, doubled the guard around the mill and in the streets adjacent thereto.

That the backbone of the strike has been broken is acknowledged by everyone save the members of the advisory committee and the most radical unionists.

Superintendent Potter said to the United Press reporter: "Altogether sixty of our former employees have returned to work and we have been informed that many will make application for their old places. Twenty-seven of our old men came in yesterday. Twenty-four of them found their places still open, but the others, I am sorry to say, were disappointed. But while they cannot step into the positions they gave up a month ago these men will be given work. I feel very sorry for the majority of the strikers who were led into the present trouble by those in whom they had such implicit confidence, but when we announced that none of our new men would be discharged to make room for those strikers who refused to return to work within the time specified we meant exactly what we said. We got in over 100 cots to-day and nearly as many men arrived from distant points. Tomorrow morning we expect fully 100 men from the east. This will give us in the neighborhood of 1,500 workmen, many of whom are skilled mechanics. We will after to-morrow relax our efforts to secure workmen, in order to give our former employees who were led into this trouble innocently an opportunity to get back. Naturally we prefer them to green hands."

There is no longer any doubt that the Amalgamated association has lost the fight and from this time on the Carnegie Steel Co. will operate its Homestead plant with non-union men.

Yesterday nearly 300 old employees who had money on deposit with the Carnegie Co. went up to the mill office and drew it out pursuant to a notice by the firm. A large number of others against whom the mill owners hold mortgages paid the interest and as yet the men claim there is not one mortgage which can be foreclosed.

The advisory board of the strikers met last night. Upon adjournment the secretary gave out the following official statement: "But two Homestead men went to work in the mill yesterday. One was Edward Lyon, brother of United States District Attorney Lyon of Pittsburgh. The other was Charles Geotel, a member of the Homestead school board, who will be deposited. There are less than 400 men in the mill. One hundred are tramps."

IAMS TAKES CRIMINAL ACTION.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 1.—Informations were made this afternoon before Alderman Reilly by ex-Private Iams against Col. Hawkins, Lieut. Col. Streeter and Assistant Surgeon Grifm of the Tenth Regiment for aggravated assault and battery. Warrants were issued. The charge of aggravated assault was for tying Iams up by the thumbs and the assault and battery for shaving his head.

Must Not Inspect in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 2.—Attorney-General Ives has written another letter, in which he says that the interpretation put on his recent opinion relative to the state inspection law is entirely erroneous and that inspectors from the state of Missouri or any place who attempt to inspect grain on Kansas soil without qualifying under the Kansas law should be promptly dealt with.

Killed at a Primary Election.

WEST PLAINS, Mo., Aug. 2.—The democrats held their primary election in Shannon county Saturday, and it resulted in one death, William Roberts being shot and killed by W. H. Kyle, a farmer.

John O'Connell Fell Out of Bed in St. Louis and broke his leg.

The bed was four feet six inches from the floor.

DESTRUCTION OF SANGIR.

Additional Details of the Volcanic Eruption—Thousands of Lives Lost.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 2.—The steamship Empress of India arrived from Japan Saturday with additional details of the disastrous eruption on Great Sangir island. Without any warning without a sign of impending disturbance, the Gunung Arco volcano blazed forth on June 7 and within twenty-four hours the whole of the prosperous surrounding country was devastated. The loss of life is something frightful, but no accurate estimate of it can be made. Some place it as high as 10,000. The captain of a ship which took assistance to the sufferers says that 10,000 is not too high a figure. A thousand bodies have been picked up on the shore and many were found floating in the sea. The whole island is completely devastated, and although the violent eruption has ceased, volumes of smoke are rising, accompanied by steam and ashes.

The inhabitants of Sangir island living within the shadows of a dormant crater, had tilled the soil and prospered, their chief industry being the growing of nutmegs, cocoa-nuts and grapes, the products being regularly shipped abroad. The villages and towns were well built and had good schools and churches.

DEPOSITORS INSINUATE.

Was It Possible There Was No Bank Robbery at El Reno, Ok.

EL RENO, Ok., Aug. 2.—The reported robbery of the bank of El Reno by the Daltons still forms the sole topic of conversation on the streets of this city. Depositors do not take kindly to the prospect of losing their money and are insinuating that no robbery was committed. They also assert that no one saw the men described either enter or leave the bank. President Sawyer indignantly denies the insinuations conveyed in their statements.

The pursuit of the supposed robbers has been abandoned and the men who were engaged in it claim that they neither saw the men nor heard of any persons answering the descriptions given.

It is reported that President Sawyer has offered to quit claim his real estate in this city to his creditors, in order to effect a settlement. It is stated, however, that each piece of property to which he lays claim has incumbrances in the shape of from two to fifteen contestants, which would render it of little utility to creditors.

The depositors held a meeting here and decided that an effort should be made to oust the present assignees.

A NICOTINE TEST.

How Much Do You Absorb in a Single Day.

Any one desirous of testing the quantity of nicotine which he probably absorbs into his system from a burning cigar can do so by a simple experiment. Let him take a mouthful of smoke, then fold his handkerchief double, place it across his lips and violently blow the smoke through the linen, when he will see a brown stain on the cloth from the tobacco oil contained in the smoke. The quantity from a single mouthful of smoke is often sufficient to stain brown a section of the handkerchief as large as a silver dime. When this is the result of a single inhalation the quantity of nicotine absorbed by the system of a man who is smoking all day must be very considerable, particularly if, as in the case of cigarette smokers, he draws the smoke into his lungs, and so exposes a much larger surface to its deleterious influences. — Funny Things.

A FORGERY.

How an Ohio Street Grocer was Beaten out of Eight Dollars and Sixty Cents.

"Does my wife trade here?" was the manner C. Brooks, the grocer at 511 Ohio street, was addressed at 8:30 Saturday night by a stranger who gave his name as Strong.

The merchant hesitated, whereupon, the stranger assured him that his wife did trade at his establishment, and that he wanted to make a purchase.

Without giving the grocer time to reflect, Strong bought two sacks of flour, a dollar's worth of sugar, and other articles amounting in all to $5.40.

When the settlement came a check for $12 on the People's Bank signed by Wells & Croven, proprietors of the Sedalia foundry, was handed the merchant, and "Strong" departed with $8.60 in cash.

Monday morning the check was presented at the bank and protested, it being a forgery. The matter is in the hands of Marshal DeLong.

The forger is about 35 years of age, has a swarthy complexion, is 5 feet 10 inches in height and has a dark mustache.

WHERE IS HE

A Business Firm Looking for One of Their Employees.

The continued absence for several days of Fred Geisinger who has several indictments against him, among which is that of forgery, has caused considerable comment among those to whom he is known.

He is under bond to appear at the next term of the criminal court. He has been missing from his desk and his employer is trying to find him.

One report says that he has gone to St. Louis and that a letter or a telegram was expected from him. Neither have been received.

A Laudable Desire for Good Roads.

From the New York World.

A number of good people are interested in improvement of country roads of the United States. The desire is most laudable and the work they propose to accomplish is most necessary. There are a few good country roads in this country, and the desire for better ones, while growing, needs stimulation. These people want a national highway commission appointed to consist of five senators, five representatives and five citizens appointed by the president. This commission is to inquire into the condition of highways in the United States, the means for their improvement, and especially the best method of securing a proper exhibit at the World's Columbian exposition for approved appliances for road making and of providing for public instruction in the art during the exposition. This is good. The bill ought to pass. There can be no place so good for such an exposition as the World's fair, and no greater good can be done to the rural inhabitants of this country than to teach them by object lessons how to make good roads.

Peace and Happiness.

New York Press.

"How do you get along with your new hired girl?"

"Oh, splendidly."

"What is your secret of mangement?"

"Oh, it nothing very wonderful. She lets me do as I like and I let her do as she likes, and there is, consequently, the utmost peace and harmony between us."

SHOP AND RAIL.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO LOCAL TRAINMEN.

News About Different Roads, Employers and Employees.

Engine 886 was run into the shops yesterday to undergo a general overhauling.

Ed Farley, traveling accountant of the "Katy," visited the boys at Boonville to-day.

Col. Jim Mills is complaining on account of an insufficiency of workmen in the blacksmith department, due to sickness and lay offs.

Engineer Billy Willis leaves to-night for a visit in Chicago. His engine will undergo repairs at the Parsons shops during his absence.

The initiative for constructing a round house was taken by the M. & T. this morning when the work of surveying was begun and a force of laborers put to clearing off the site. It will be near the foot of Lamine.

Russell T. McReory, than whom a more accommodating gentleman never lived, has resigned his position as express messenger on the Lexington branch and leaves to-day for Denver, Colorado, where he has a more lucrative position with the Globe Express company, formerly the Denver & Rio Grande Express company. It is said that Mr. McReory will be stationed at Junction City, Colorado.

Foreman Berry of the Pacific car-penter shops received a letter from Jim McCable who left his anvil some weeks ago and set out for Canada—not for reasons usually assigned, but to spend his vacation catching fish, etc., seeing foreign sights, etc. Jim says he is having the greatest time of anybody on earth and he is very much impressed with the Dominion. He takes occasion to predict in the conclusion of the letter that Canada, at no distant day, will receive her desired annexation with the United States.

George Copeland, the well known telegraph operator who has been working the night shift at the "X" office, resigned yesterday and will leave at once for Chicago where he will visit a short time, after which he will spend a few days in Kansas City and then proceed to Portland, Oregon, where he will reside in the future. George has been succeeded by Mr. C. H. Tooker, of Moberly. George has a large circle of warm friends in Sedalia, who wish him unbounded success wherever he may pitch his tent. He is a "lightning"lingerer," from away back, and is well calculated to make things lively in almost any office he strikes.

A Deserving Gentleman.

J. W. Cunningham, late assistant paymaster of the M. & T., with B. P. McDonald, was in the city to-day with his wife, and left with her for Warrensburg where she will visit Mr. Cunningham's sister, while he goes to St. Louis and sees his thousand and one railroad acquaintances. Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham will afterwards return to Parsons, pack up their household effects and depart for their new home at Little Rock, Arkansas.

In that city Mr. Cunningham will form a partnership with his brother in the banking business, the firm to be known as the Cunningham Bank. It is safe to say that there is no man who has a more extensive and popular acquaintance in Arkansas and all bordering states than J. W. Cunningham. He has acted as paymaster on every railroad in that state and knows the people like a book. But this alone is not the only thing that will guarantee John's success. He has a personality that draws men to him and makes friends of them. His jovial disposition, his unvarying courtesy, whether it be paying the president of the road or a section hand, his wide experience and his proved business qualifications will make the Cunningham bank a prosperous one.

Jim Gossage Back.

Jim Gossage returned from the territory last night, where he has been running on the M. & T. as an express car guard.

Jim says the Dalton gang, now eight in number, were seen camped near Bond's Switch, I. T., yesterday within a quarter of a mile of the track. They are well armed and mounted.

Moving Chatterton's Bones.

Walter Besant in Ladies' Triorial.

They are going to dig up and to scatter in strange soils, the bones of one of England's poets. The bones are those of Chatterton; the place where they are buried is now the Ferrington Market, formerly the burial ground of the paupers of St. Andrew's, Holburn. As a pauper of that parish this poor boy was buried there. The place has long since been covered with flagstones, and a market for vegetables and fruit has been held there.

Now the site has been sold, and will probably be built over; and leave has been obtained to move the bones under the flagstones to the cemetery at Great Ilford.

A SHORT HISTORY

Of the Miner Symptomatic Gold Treatment and Some of the Secrets of its Unrivalled Success.

The Miner treatment is not an experiment, but the outgrowth of a complete and careful research, combined with years of experience. Centuries ago Paracelsus discovered a golden light and proclaimed to the world that the great eradicating agent for all hereditary taints would be found in gold, the king of metals. Ever since it has been demonstrated to the world that alcoholism is a curable disease, there has existed much of skepticism and prejudice, coming not only from the general public, but from the medical fraternity as well. It has taken time to overcome these obstacles. There was also need for improvement in the remedies used, and a more scientific system for their administration. In formulating our treatment, Symptomatic Gold Treatment these and many other most needed requisites for a safe and scientific course of treatment have been successfully met.

After visiting numerous institutions established for the treatment and cure of diseases in question, and upon close investigation we are frank to admit that there is a marked similarity in all treatments. It is not our intention to speak disparagingly of any who may, either by word or deed, help on this grand work. Yet, as we have already indicated, to our minds, the only safe and reliable treatment is that which is known and admits of variation by the physician in charge. Then and only then is he prepared to meet complications and suit his treatment to the changing conditions of the patient, as in pneumonia, typhoid fever, or any other disease.

Therefore, in presenting to you our Symptomatic Gold Treatment, we beg you to consider it thoughtfully, and should it recommend itself to your best judgment we shall be pleased to have you investigate our work, either in your own interest or in behalf of your friends and suffering humanity.
